This was a great conference. It was very, very informative and allowed for easy networking. Bravo! Thank you!

- Linda Benson, IPC The Hospitalist Company

“Great dialogue among participants.”
“Amazing speakers!”

SPS is a national conference focusing on linking telemedicine and telehealth service provider companies with hospitals, healthcare systems, clinics and others who need their services.

With an expo hall offering a range of medical specialty services, ancillary patient services and supporting technology, SPS displays the latest trends in clinical telehealth.

And with a roster of nationally known telemedicine and healthcare innovation experts, SPS content is “very valuable,” according to SPS 2014 participants.

SPS is about bringing better healthcare to patients, communities, and populations; improving outcomes; and reducing costs. It is about helping hospitals and healthcare systems to thrive through partnerships with telemedicine providers.

Come and learn about finding the right partner for your needs and how to make your partnership successful. Meet the telemedicine providers and hear about their services and business models.

Join us in June 2016 in Phoenix, AZ, to be a part of this exciting trend in healthcare delivery!
